WHAT IS THIS PRODUCT?

Type: Special fund

Term: There is no maturity date for the fund. The fund company have a right to close the fund and redeem the units, please see the prospectus for more information.

Objectives: The fund invests in shares of small listed companies in the Nordic region with an emphasis on Sweden. The fund invests in companies that have a market capitalisation of no more than 0.1 per cent of the total market value of the Swedish stock market. At the end of November 2022, this meant a market value of approximately SEK 9.4 billion. The fund does not invest in companies that violate international conventions or in companies that produce and/or distribute controversial weapons. The fund also does not invest in companies where more than 5% of the company's turnover comes from production and/or distribution of tobacco, cannabis, alcohol, weapons, gambling or pornography. Furthermore, the fund does not invest in companies where more than 5% of the company's turnover is derived from the extraction of fossil fuels (coal, oil and gas). The fund is managed on the basis of Lannebo Fonder's investment philosophy of active management. This means that we focus on fundamental company analysis and valuation of individual stocks in companies whose business models we understand. The focus is on each individual investment in the fund and its prospects for the future. The fund invests in companies where we can have an informed opinion about the company's future and where the valuation is sufficiently attractive. The most attractive stocks are the largest holdings in the fund. In many cases, we will be one of the largest shareholders in the companies we invest in. We are independent in our management and make our own decisions. The most attractive shares, according to the managers, are the largest holdings in the fund, regardless of which holdings are in the fund's benchmark. The fund typically invests in 20 to 30 companies. The fund is a special fund, which means, among other things, that it may concentrate its holdings in a smaller number of companies than that of an ordinary equity fund. Deviations from the benchmark can be both large and small, see the fund's annual report or prospectus for an explanation of the fund's actual deviations from its benchmark over time. The fund's benchmark index is Carnegie Micro Cap Sweden Return Index. The objective is to provide over the long term a good return, taking into account the level of risk. The fund's management can be compared with the fund's benchmark. This KID applies to share class A. The fund makes normally no dividends for share class A, but all income is reinvested in the fund. Withdrawals can be made on the last business day of June and December and on special redemption occasions. The fund is closed for deposits.

Intended Retail Investor: This fund may be suitable for those who plan to hold their investment for at least five years and who understand that the money invested in the fund may increase or decrease in value and that there is no guarantee that you will get back all the capital invested. To invest in the fund, you do not need to have any particular prior knowledge or experience of funds or financial markets.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND WHAT COULD I GET IN RETURN?

Risk Indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 year(s).

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets. We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class. This means that the fund has a medium risk of increases and decreases in unit value. The indicator mainly reflects the increases and decreases in the value of the shares that the fund invests in.

Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the risk indicator shown. Risks not captured by the risk indicator: liquidity risk, the fund may hold large positions in smaller companies, which means that the level of risk when liquidity in the market is limited may be higher than indicated by the indicator.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.
