Objective and investment policy

The fund invests in equities in small and medium-sized technology companies. The companies must have a high level of technology content, but can be active in various industries. The fund has global investment opportunities and the fund managers invest in interesting companies regardless of geographical location. The criteria for a company's size is market capitalization, which at the time of investment may not exceed USD 5 billion or the equivalent amount in another currency. The market capitalization limit shall be adjusted annually in accordance with the performance of the fund's benchmark index. Up to 10 per cent of the assets may be invested in companies that are larger and/or not is technology companies.

The fund does not invest in companies that violate international conventions or in companies that produce and/or distribute controversial weapons. The fund also refrains from investing in companies in which more than 5 per cent of the company's turnover comes from the production and/or distribution of tobacco, cannabis, alcohol, weapons, gambling or pornography. The fund also refrains from investing in companies in which more than 5 per cent of the company's turnover comes from extracting of fossil fuels (coal, oil and gas).

The fund is managed according to Lannebo Fonder's investment philosophy of active asset management. This means that we focus on fundamental company analysis and valuation of individual stocks in companies whose business models we understand. We are independent in our management of,

and in our decisions regarding, the fund. The most attractive shares, according to the managers, are the largest holdings in the fund, regardless of the holdings in the fund's benchmark. We strive to invest in companies that are leaders in various industries. We analyze the company's competitiveness and future outlook and how it is reflected in the share price. The intent is that each investment must qualify on their own merits. We focus on what is important for the company and its long-term development. The fund normally invests in 40 to 50 companies.

Deviations from the benchmark index can be both larger and smaller, please see the fund's annual report or information brochure for an account of the fund's actual deviations in relation to its benchmark over time. The objective is to over time generate good returns which also exceeds the benchmark index taking into account the risk level.

The fund normally pays no dividend and all income is re-invested in the fund.

This document is valid for share class SEK.

Purchase and sale of fund units may normally be made every banking day.

Benchmark: MSCI World Small Cap Information Technology Index.

Recommendation: The fund may not be suitable for investors who plan to withdraw their money within five years.

Risk and reward profile

About the indicator: The risk and reward indicator illustrates the relationship between risk and potential returns from an investment in the fund. Since this fund started DD MM 2019, the indicator is based on the available history for the fund supplemented by historical relevant comparative data.

The fund's investments: The fund belongs to category 6, which means a high risk of both increases and decreases in value. Category 1 does not mean the fund is a risk free investment. Over time the fund may shift to both the right and left on the indicator scale. This is because the indicator is based on historical data, which is not a guarantee of future risk and returns.

The equity market is generally characterized by high risk, but also the potential for high returns. Since a large proportion of investments are made in currencies other than the Swedish krona, the fund is also exposed to currency risk that can both reduce and increase returns apart from changes in the price of the shares that the fund invest in.

Risk factors not shown through the indicator: The liquidity risk, i.e. the risk that the securities may not be sold at the intended time without a major reduction in price or high costs, is not fully reflected in the indicator. The fact that the fund may hold large positions in smaller companies implies that the level of risk may be higher than shown by the indicator during periods when the liquidity in the market is limited. This places greater demands on the management of liquidity and requires that periodically the fund have an appropriate mix of shares in order to manage liquidity risk in an effective manner.
